Friends

For the last two days we have had very informative presentations on various aspects of functional foods. I am grateful to all the speakers and Session chairs for doing a wonderful job.

Mr Panandiker has summed up two days of deliberations and has pointed out what action will be taken by ILSI-India.

Functional foods has been known to Indian consumers but there is a need to re-emphasize the benefits and work on how the modern technology can blend with traditional thinking to come out with foods and beverages which will be beneficial for health keeping health profile of our population.

With these words I thank you once again for participating and declare the Conference closed. Our next Conference is on Food Safety in Colombo on May 20-21. If anyone is interested in participating then you can write to Ms Sinha for detailed program.
